

Coding Audit Services

Get the facts, improve your coding and gain peace of mind with HRS Coding Audit Services.

Industry Problem

Is your coding good, bad or great? Not knowing for certain puts you at risk.

Accurate coding is vital to you and your hospital. It can be the difference between higher profitability or lost revenue; high quality or poor data; and concern about looming compliance audits or the peace of mind that comes with being completely prepared.

The word “audit” may conjure frustration, dread or other negative feelings to HIM directors and managers; however, it can also bring control, higher quality and peace of mind. Do you have weaknesses in your coding? Do you know how much money you’re missing due to incomplete clinical documentation? Or are you “over-coding,” making your organization liable? Do you have a system in place with checks-and balances to ensure quality coding....or are you at risk for non-compliance?

If you’re not sure of any or all of the above questions, you’re not only missing revenue opportunities, you’re also putting your organization at risk for substantial financial penalties and legal problems.
